Message from the Co-CEO

Hello All! Some of you know Beth Taylor (Co-CEO) and myself. For those of you that do not, Beth and I founded Centric Learning to support educators and students with project-based learning online solutions, creating a new way of learning that has positive student outcomes for schools and districts across the globe. We hope you enjoy our recently developed fun, engaging, and informative newsletter! If you have any questions for or about us, then feel free to reach out anytime! Glen Taylor, Co-CEO, Centric Learning

Back to School!!

For administrators and educators, the transition into a new school year comes with its rewards (the students)...and its challenges. Whether it's classroom preparation, time management, teacher shortages, burnout, or meeting today's technological needs, Centric Learning understands-- our company was created by educators! We hope you enjoy this month's newsletter and if you have any questions, feel to reach out anytime!

Teacher Shortage? What Teacher Shortage?

Don't let the title fool you—we know there is a teacher shortage crisis facing the US. Unfortunately, it is hard to predict when the current crisis will end, and this leaves some school districts struggling for help. However, there is an immediate and reliable remedy.

Helping At-Risk Students Feel At-Home

Let's face it—not all students learn the same way! No longer are the days where every student must learn in the “traditional” manner. Research has proven that differentiating instruction helps all students be successful by adapting to their own learning styles.

Maidie Baker, Director of Curriculum and Instruction

Meet the Centric Team

Prior to joining the Centric team, Maidie served as a Title I school administrator in Bradenton, Florida. Maidie's career in education has taken several different paths in her 27 years since her first teaching job. She has served at the school, district, and state level of public K-12 education in a variety of roles and also spent several years in the higher ed world as a student services administrator. Her passion has always been supporting at-opportunity students and ensuring educational equity for all. She is a science and math nerd at heart who always has a stack of non-fiction books to read in her down time. She and her family also enjoy traveling and spending time outdoors.

We've created a range of virtual school solutions for the classroom and hybrid/virtual settings for grades 3-12 - all built with our award-winning project-based curriculum.
