

Cats

Introduction

In this paper we will be discussing cats's Habitats like where they live and where they can be found. 2nd we will be talking about what they look like, like their fur, color, and even their tails. Lastly we will talk about what they eat. So get ready for this info filled paper.

Habitat

In this Paragraph we will be talking about cats' habitats. The first one we will talk about is Savanna. So there is a special breed of cat called The Savanna Cat, their habitat is in a Savanna Forest.

The 2nd habitat we will be talking about is a Open Forest, and there lives a cat in a open forest called Norwegian Forest Cat

This next habitat we will be talking about is Houses. Houses are a great place to live because you don't have other animals trying to hunt you. A good house cat is a Maine Coon The last habitat is a Mangrove

Swamp/Forest. So a Mangrove is full of fish, And the cat that lives here is The Fishing Cat

Appearance

In this section we will be talking about how they look. First we will be talking about ear tufts. Ear tufts are when the fur grows to the tip of the ears

The next appearance is the cat's size like if a cat is big and chunky or as people like to call "Chonky" Or "Chonk"

But as much as we love a chunky cat it is unhealthy as in anything being "chunky" The next appearance is being Cute. Cute is an opinion. So, I will be giving my opinion on what I think is "Cute". So the cutest cats in my opinion are Scottish Folds, And Munchkin Cats, But I found a Munchkin Scottish Fold

Isn't that the cutest thing ever?!

But anywho we are moving on to the last appearance and it's pretty obvious but its "4 legs" All cats have four legs right? NO, don't some cats have 3 legs or maybe even 5? Now I'm not gonna put any pictures cause y'know I don't wanna make anyone sad or anything like that. But that's it for appearance so on to the next one.

Diet

A cat's diet is very simple, they're meat eaters. So this paragraph is going to be short. Cooked beef, chicken, turkey and small amounts of lean deli meats are great ways to give it.

Conclusion

So now we know the wonders that our little feline friends hold. We found out what they look like. We learned about their habitat and where they live. And lastly we talked about what they eat, or their diet.
